

PVFA Syllabus Review Report

Course: HECC 100

Q1. Does the syllabus include the current catalog course description?

YES

The syllabus includes the catalog course description as stated in the official catalog: 'Performance in World Cultures. (3-0). Credit 3. Application of the tools of performance studies to explore the enactment of the arts in world cultures and the ways the people of every society express themselves in performance; examination of different genres of performance through music, theatre, verbal art and dress.'

Q2. Are the learning outcomes consistent with the course description in the current catalog?

YES

The learning outcomes in the syllabus align with the catalog description, focusing on recognizing key features of performance practices, understanding cultural continuity and change through performance, applying performance studies theories, analyzing performances, and formulating positions on debates in performance studies.

Q3. If a multi-section course, are the course description and learning outcomes consistent across all sections?

YES

The syllabus represents a single course section; cross-section consistency is not applicable.

Q4. Are course materials and topics consistent with the course description and learning outcomes?

YES

The topics and materials in the syllabus are consistent with the description and outcomes, including discussions on different genres of performance, cultural continuity, and critical analysis of performances.

Q5. Are topics covered essential for students to be prepared to enter their profession or discipline?

YES

The topics covered are clearly relevant to the discipline of performance studies, including key features of performance practices, cultural continuity, and critical analysis of performances.

Q6. Are topics covered consistent with the expected body of knowledge in the discipline?

YES

The topics align with standard disciplinary content in performance studies, focusing on recognizing key features of performance practices, understanding cultural continuity and change, and analyzing performances.

Q7. Are controversial topics presented that have no relation to the approved course description and learning outcomes?

NO

Controversial topics are related to the discipline of performance studies, such as discussions on cultural continuity, performance analysis, and debates in performance studies.

Q8. Do any assignments require students to hold certain beliefs unrelated to the approved course description and outcomes to receive a grade?

NO

The assignments in the syllabus do not require the adoption of unrelated personal beliefs; instead, they focus on critical analysis, reflection, and collaborative projects related to performance studies.

Q9. Does the course content include material related to race ideology, gender ideology, or sexual orientation?

YES

The syllabus includes discussions on power distribution, privilege, oppression, discrimination, tolerance, intolerance, multiculturalism, and conflict from multiple viewpoints, which are related to gender, race, and social ideologies.