

PVFA Syllabus Review Report

Course: LAAH 210

Q1. Does the syllabus include the current catalog course description?

YES

The syllabus includes the catalog course description: 'History of Film. (3-0). Credit 3. Historical development of significant periods, movements, styles, practices and film cultures, including several different national cinemas.'

Q2. Are the learning outcomes consistent with the course description in the current catalog?

YES

The learning outcomes in the syllabus are consistent with the catalog description, focusing on observing and describing various genres of films, reflecting on global film history, responding to film criticism, and constructing arguments about cinematic works in specific contexts.

Q3. If a multi-section course, are the course description and learning outcomes consistent across all sections?

YES

The syllabus represents a single course section; cross-section consistency is not applicable.

Q4. Are course materials and topics consistent with the course description and learning outcomes?

YES

The topics and materials in the syllabus align with the description and outcomes, including screenings, readings, and assignments related to film history, criticism, and cultural contexts.

Q5. Are topics covered essential for students to be prepared to enter their profession or discipline?

YES

The topics covered in the syllabus are essential for preparation in the discipline of film studies, focusing on genres, film history, criticism, and cultural contexts.

Q6. Are topics covered consistent with the expected body of knowledge in the discipline?

YES

The topics in the syllabus are consistent with the expected body of knowledge in film studies, covering genres, historical contexts, criticism, and cultural impacts.

Q7. Are controversial topics presented that have no relation to the approved course description and learning outcomes?

NO

Controversial topics related to representations of violence, sexuality, and nudity in films are part of the discipline of film studies and align with the course content.

Q8. Do any assignments require students to hold certain beliefs unrelated to the approved course description and outcomes to receive a grade?

NO

Assignments in the syllabus focus on analytical discussion, critique, and comparison of film movements and national cinemas, rather than requiring adoption of personal beliefs.

Q9. Does the course content include material related to race ideology, gender ideology, or sexual orientation?

YES

The syllabus includes topics related to gender biases, representation, and labor practices in film history, which are central to the required components of race, gender, and sexual orientation ideologies.